This one came to us in a condition that was almost screaming "repaint NEEDED."

The Sprite had a rather intense ripple effect going on all over the boot and starting to break out in various spots around the body. This was due to the previous paint job it had where the paint was the top of bog with untreated rust spots under it. This meant to do the job properly we needed to take the car right back to bare metal and start again...

After a fair bit of panel beating, rust repairs and paint preparation... the result speaks for itself!
